Program Review, Stats, & Updates

Review of Dec and Jan:

- CCFK Gifts to kiddos!
- CASA Appreciation lunch!
- ICWA Training - we learned so much and we will definitely have more in the future!

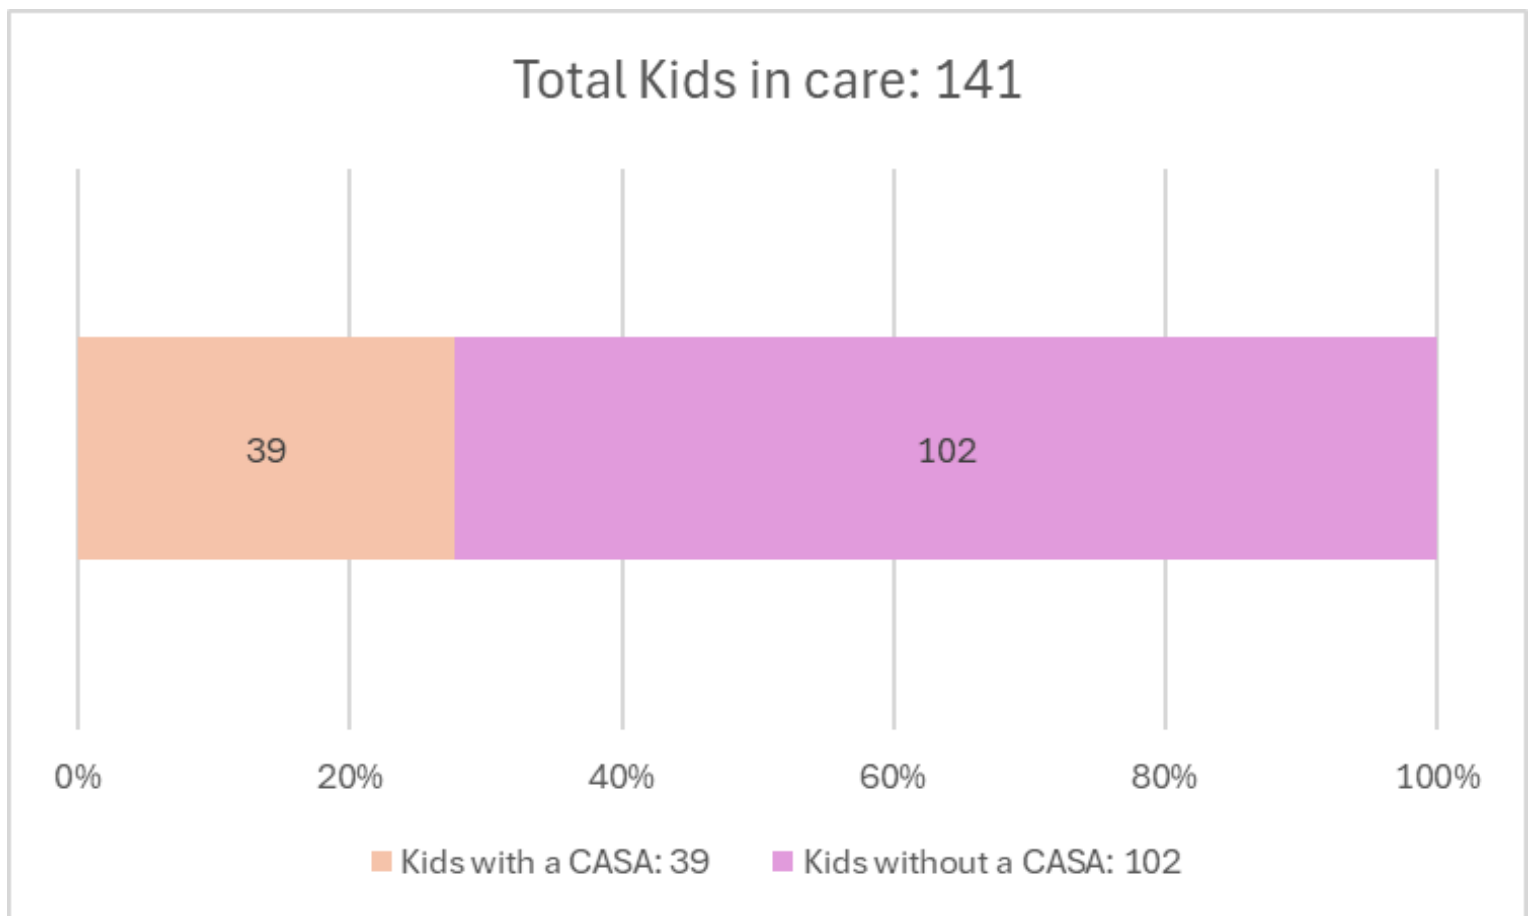

We appreciate
all that you do

Stats:

- We currently have 29 active CASAs, and 141 kids in care.
- Currently in Coconino County, 1 out of every 3.6 kids gets assigned a CASA. (which is better than the AZ state average!)

Spotlight: Jane Tynes

I retired from teaching in 2017 after 40 years of working with students with disabilities in Florida. In 2019 I moved to Flagstaff and missed the connection I had with students and families. I saw an advertisement describing the need for CASAs. I thought being a CASA would be meaningful and rewarding.

I have been a CASA since November 10, 2022.

What surprised me about being a CASA is the attachment I developed for the children and families. When you are a CASA you meet children who have experienced all kinds of challenges, trauma, and difficult life experiences. Although, at times, it was difficult to see what the children were going through, I really feel I made a difference.

I also was pleasantly surprised at the amount and quality of training available to CASAs.

I stay a CASA, because I believe I really do make a difference. I share resources and information in order for children to obtain things they need, such as school supplies, clothing, and counseling to name a few. The most important part of being a CASA is developing a relationship with the children, so they know they have an advocate.

If you are considering becoming a CASA, I would advise you to realize the children and families you meet most likely are in unusual situations. Acceptance of the differences is most important. Also, take advantage of relationships with other CASAs and staff for support.

In my free time I like to hike, travel, and explore all the many beautiful areas of Arizona.

In light of the Jurassic World movie last summer, my favorite dinosaur is the Dilophosaurus because of its beautiful crest around its skull. Three skeletons were discovered in northern Arizona in 1940, and the two best preserved were collected in 1942.

2025 Grant Requests

You can request a grant from CCFK if your kiddos need something! Here are some fun stats showcasing the numbers from 2025:

Average number of grant requests per month -----	64
Dollar value of diaper/pullup/wipes -----	$24,450
Total amount expended for grant requests -----	$194,326
Average amount per month -----	$16,193
Number of requests related to summer camps -----	20
• Dollar Value of those approved -----	$11,810

CCFK is now paying for counseling co-pays with private therapists! There are limits, so reach out with any questions!

CCFK is willing to cover the registration costs for any CASA volunteers interested in attending the July '26 Child Abuse Prevention Conference! More details below in the Training section of the newsletter.

- Join us to eat snacks and talk about your cases without breaking confidentiality!

CASA Fun Nights

Hey CASA fam! As CASA staff, we originally wanted to do Bring-a-Friend Nights this year, as Kate has sent out emails about. But we are going to pivot, and instead are just going to be doing CASA Fun Nights! (The Valentine's Day Bring-a-Friend Night that Kate notified you about that was going to be on Tue, Feb 17th will not take place.)

These CASA Fun Nights will be after-work-hours activities where we can come together as CASAs and just have fun! It will be current CASA volunteers only, so you will be free to talk about cases if you want without breaking confidentiality! We'll plan on starting these activities in April, so in the meantime, we wanted to get your thoughts!

Please take a moment to fill out this quick survey to help us with these CASA Fun Nights!

Training Opportunities

Remember that as a certified CASA, you get to complete 12 hours of in-service training every year. This section of the newsletter includes some ideas to help you get started on that for 2026!

If you need any additional help with getting training hours, or if you just have any questions, reach out to Kate! It is her job 😊

- Reading this newsletter counts as training! You can count a half hour for it :)))
- This training was put on by the state back in 2011, so it's a little outdated, but still provides a lot of great information!
<https://www.azcourts.gov/improve/Training/ICWA-Training>

An orange speech bubble with a tail pointing towards the bottom left, containing text about office hours.

Reminder: Kate holds office hours every Wednesday from 3-5pm. Just show up with any questions you have and she will be available to help! You can bring your laptop if you are running into technical difficulties. You can also schedule an appointment if those office hours don't work for you!

February 9, 2026 12:00 pm – 1:00 pm [\[Register\]](#)

Dawn Williams, CWLS, Unit Chief Counsel for CFPD Appeals

This session explores the grounds for termination of parental rights and best interests, including standards of proof, elements of each ground, and case-law examples.

The ICPC: Applying the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children to Dependency, Guardianship, and Severance Actions in Juvenile Court

March 9, 2026 12:00 pm – 1:00 pm [\[Register\]](#)

Dawn Williams, CWLS Unit Chief Counsel for CFPD Appeals

This program is designed to deepen judicial understanding of the ICPC, specifically when and how to apply it, understanding the role of the ICPC Compact Administrator, reviewing the purpose and content of the ICPC Regulations, and addressing common issues and pitfalls.

The Uncoupling of Poverty and Neglect

February 3, 2026 11:00 am – 12:30 pm [\[Register\]](#) ⬅⬅ NOTE Different time. ⬅

Erica Quintana, Senior Research Analyst, ASU Morrison Institute for Public Policy

Poverty can lead to material hardships, such as lack of food, housing, or clothing, that can be mistaken for neglect. A parent's inability to provide due to poverty is not the same as an unwillingness to provide – this distinction is critical. Mistaking poverty for neglect can lead to unnecessary child welfare involvement, including removal of children and even eventual termination of parental rights.

Please Don't Make Me Change Schools Again: The Educational Rights of Students in Foster Care

March 11, 2026 12:00 pm – 1:00 pm [\[Register\]](#)

Renz Narciso, Statewide Education Specialist, Arizona Department of Child Safety

This session will cover the federally legislated educational rights of students in foster care, the programs that public schools must provide to support students in foster care, and how the child welfare agency collaborates to maintain school stability for students in foster care. Additionally, this session will cover the role that the court system can play in upholding the educational rights of students in foster care.

Walk Through the Maze: The Arizona Dependency Process

February 12, 2026 12:00 pm – 1:00 pm [\[Register\]](#)

March 4, 2026 12:00 pm – 1:00 pm [\[Register\]](#)

Dawn Williams, CWLS

Arizona Attorney General's Office, Unit Chief Counsel, Child, and Family Protection Division Appeals Unit

This session provides a step-by-step overview of the Dependency Process, including its timelines, purpose, and major provisions. Dawn will take participants from the beginning when a report is made to petition filing to hearings to placement and all the steps in between.

Navigating the Health Care System for Arizona's Foster Children

February 25, 2026 12:30 pm – 2:00 pm [\[Register\]](#) ⬅NOTE Different Time⬅

Presented by Nichol Khan M.Ed., MSW, Mercy Care Children's System of Care Senior Analyst and Amelia Cearlock, MSW, DCS Comprehensive Health Plan (CHP) System of Care Administrator

We are pleased to present a training all about how to navigate the behavioral health system for a foster child.

Join this webinar if you have ever wondered any of the below questions:

- What is the health plan for Arizona's foster children and how does a foster child access care?
- Who or what is the role of behavioral health for a child in the foster care system, and who can you reach out to if services are not timely?
- What is the System of Care team within DCS CHP, and what is their role?
- How would you as a Dependency Judge, Dependency or Delinquency Attorney, CASA Volunteer, or FCRB Volunteer assist in helping to ensure the child in front of you has the services in place to be successful?

ICWA Basic, How it applies for CASA and FCRB volunteers

February 27, 2026 1:00 pm – 2:30 pm [\[Register\]](#) ⬅NOTE Different Time⬅

Honorable Kathleen Quigley, Pima Juvenile Court Honorable Janet Bostwick, Pima Juvenile Court

Our focus is to give an overview of why ICWA is a law, the historical impact the continues, give an overview and understanding of the federal law that they will hear about in court, and gave ideas on what CASA's and FCRB can do in their role to support the letter and the spirit of ICWA. We included in the training a tribal and cultural inclusion piece.

◆ALWAYS: Immigration Assistance for Minors in DCS Care

March 23, 2026 12:00 pm– 1:00 pm [\[Register\]](#)

Marissa F. Anderson, Managing Attorney, Arizona Legal Women and Youth Services

This presentation will focus on immigration assistance to children under the care of AZDCS. The session will cover key aspects of immigration service relevant to these vulnerable children, including pathways to legal status, special immigrant juvenile status (SIJS), and additional legal services for victims. Attendees will gain practical insights on how to identify immigration needs and refer services to advocate effectively for the children's rights and collaborate with child welfare professionals to ensure the best outcomes. This session is essential anyone working to protect and support immigrant children in foster care or similar settings.

Prevent Child Abuse Arizona envisions a world in which all children and families live happy and purposeful lives with hope for the future.

To achieve that vision, we need to understand what we value and take action based on what we know works.

This year's conference will focus on that intentionality – our purpose.

Culture Moment

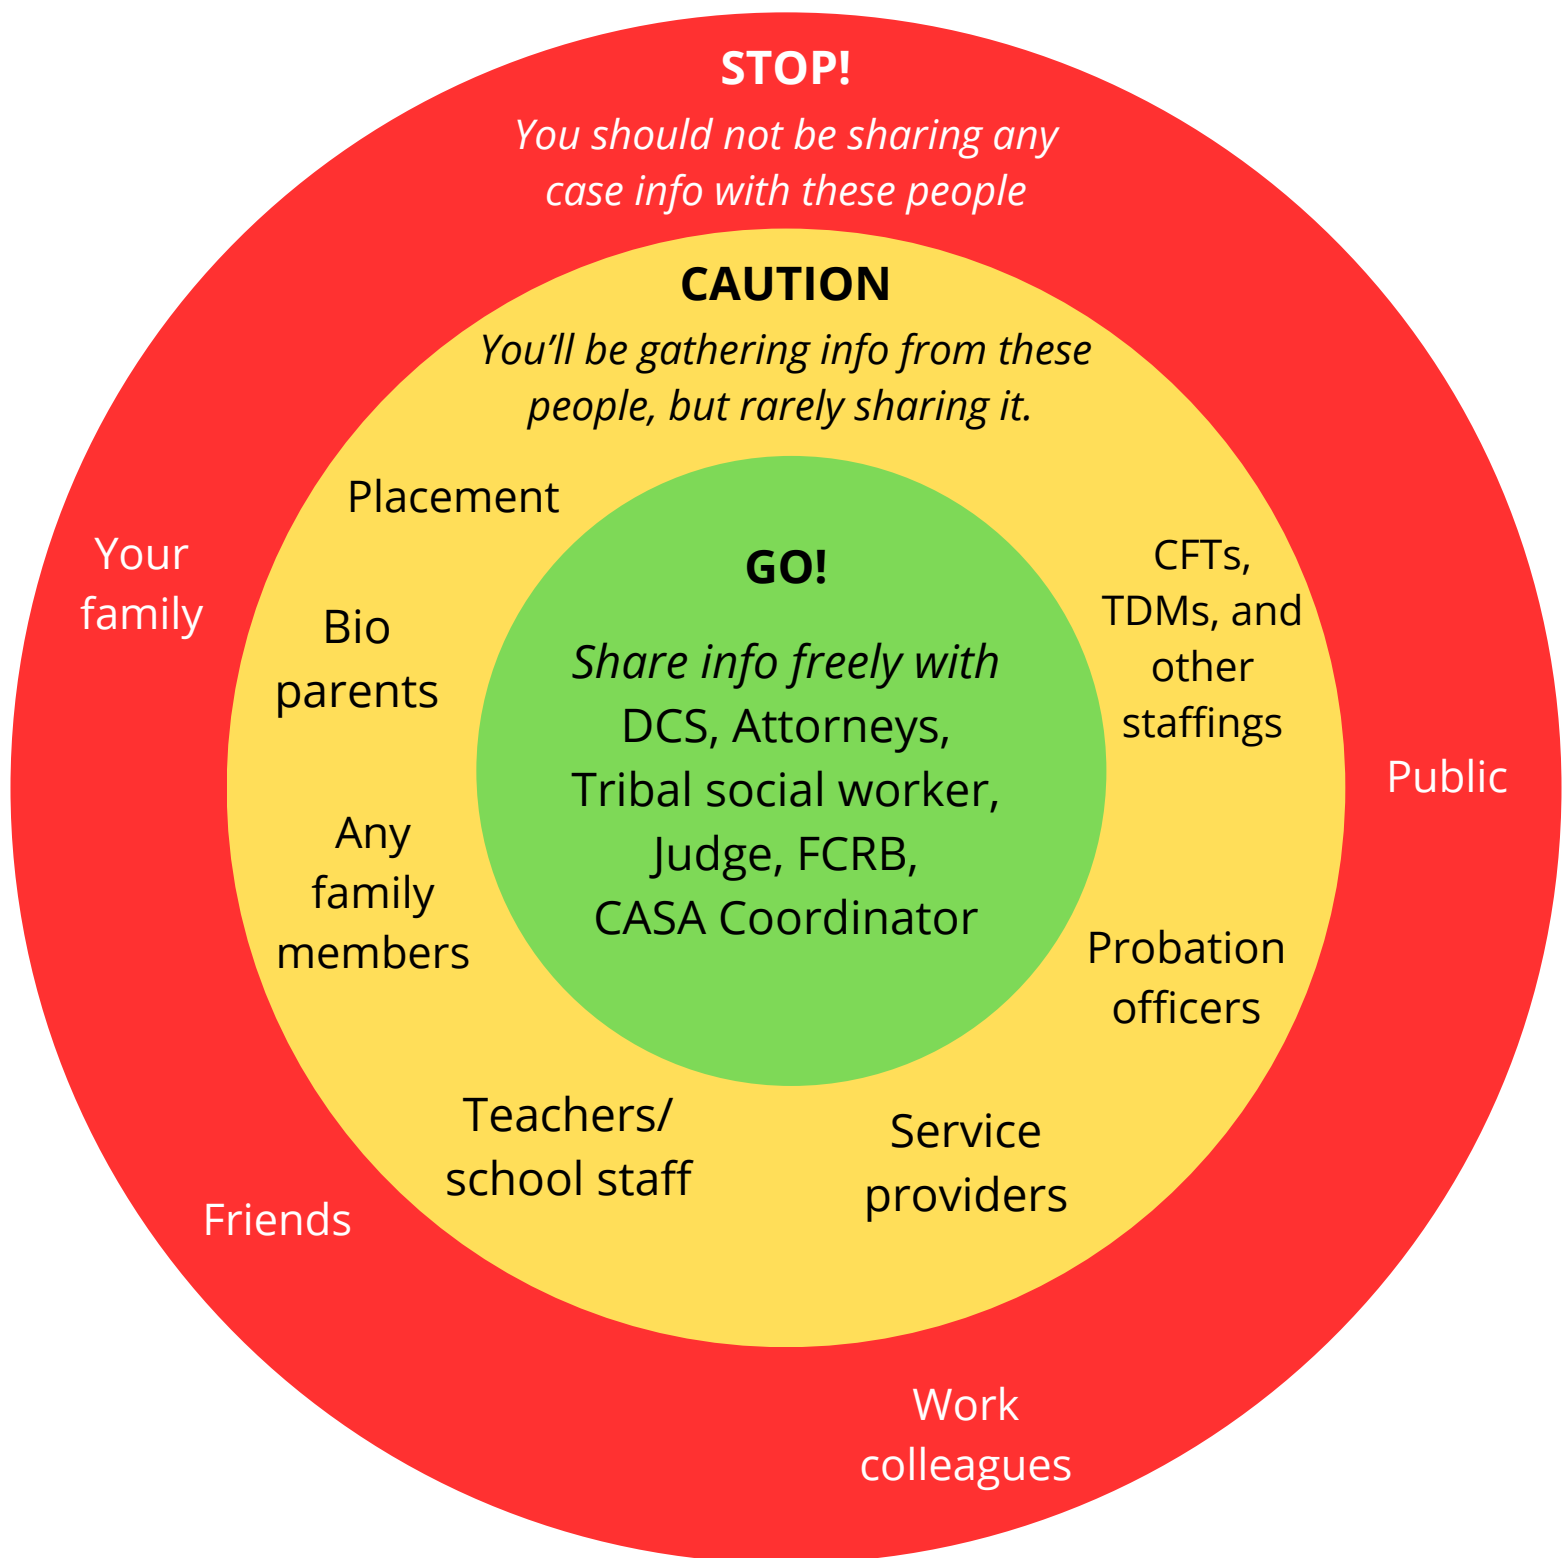

Food is a huge part of culture! As a CASA, you can ask the child what some of their favorite foods are and communicate that with the placement. You could maybe even ask the bio parents for a recipe that the child loves! Does the child's culture have food that can only be found at a specific grocery store in town? Ask around and find out where to shop for them! Or if fast food is a big part of the child's culture and what's familiar to them, that could possibly be a part of your monthly visits. Sometimes it's the little things, like food, that aren't so little to a child when everything else familiar has been taken away <3

Remember this? Flashbacks to Academy

As CASA volunteers, we are supposed to use a Strength Based Approach! This means acknowledging the resources that exist within a family (including extended family) and using those strengths to help meet the needs in the family. This approach creates more options for resolutions, and it empowers and supports children and families. Here are some helpful questions to ask to put yourself in a strengths-based mindset:

- How has this family solved problems in the past?
- What court-ordered activities have family members completed?
- Does the family have extended family or non-relative kin who could be a resource?
- How are family members coping with their present circumstances?

Confidentiality Reminder Infographic

Services/Resources

As CASA volunteers, you are in the best position out of anyone to monitor the case and make sure needs are being met. But what if you notice a need that you're not sure how to fill?

Never fear, resources are here! This section of the newsletter includes different services and resources in the community available to the kiddos and families you work with.

Also, reach out and ask! There is a whole team helping you as a CASA, and a whole team working for this family!

To start you off, Coconino Coalition for Children & Youth has put together resource directories for Flagstaff, Williams, Tuba City, and Page. Those can be found here: <https://coconinokids.org/resources/>
